DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. This application is a 371 of PCT/GB04/01428. For applications filed under 371, PCT rules for lack of unity apply.
2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1. Claims 1-9, are drawn to a method of treating an allergic condition by administering EV131.

Group 2. Claims 1-9, are drawn to a method of treating an inflammatory condition by administering EV131.

Group 3. Claims 1-9, are drawn to a method of treating an auto-immune condition by administering EV131.

The inventions listed as Groups I-3 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because under PCT Rule 13.2 they lack the same or corresponding special technical feature for the following reasons:

The PCT rules define a special technical feature as a feature, which defines a contribution over the prior art. The first claimed invention fails to recite such a feature, since WO 01/15719 discloses a method of using histacalin proteins (EV131) for the treatment of allergic conjunctivitis, particularly vernal keratoconjunctivitis (See page 3, line 25; page 4, line 32; page 7, column 2; examples 1,2). Therefore the reference teaches a method of treating an allergic condition as claimed meeting the limitations of the claims of Group I.

Since the first claimed invention lacks a special technical feature, the other claimed inventions cannot share a special technical feature with the first claimed invention. The inventions of Groups 2-3 are patentably distinct from the method of Group I because each method uses method steps not required by the other, each method uses different starting materials and patient populations and the search of all methods in one application would result in an undue search burden.

2. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. 1.17(h).

Election of Species

3a. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of diseases of the claimed invention:

If any one of Groups I-3 is elected, Applicants are required to elect one of the following species of diseases selected from claim 3.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species of disease for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-2, 4-9 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
